Dear Colonel King:

You were most kind to get me the Japanese translation of Admiral Theobald's book The final secret of Pearl Harbor, and especially such a nice fresh copy, complete with jacket and outside small blurb. I've had the latter translated and it's a dilly!

Many thanks for your gift, but, please, when you do this to me you make me hesitate to ask you to send me anything else you should run across and think might well belong in my collection.

Anyhow, thanks again and my best wishes to you for 1955.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM F. FRIEDMAN
