REMARKS

CDR LITTLE of NATO called at 1600 hours to say that in line with the recent discussions regarding proposed regulations and provisions for improving the security of NATO communications, the British member of his Committee had just brought him a copy of a proposed set of regulations, prepared by the Joint Intelligence Committee in London and already approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff. CDR LITTLE said that the regulations were in his opinion very thorough and very good.

The letter of transmittal said that a brief would follow outlining and specifying certain "recent indiscretions". CDR LITTLE thought this probably referred to matters recently discussed by the Ad Hoc Committee. He said that his Committee would use the British material for what it was worth and discreetly, not violating any confidential discussions. He also said that the Committee would probably place the paper before the Standing Group and that he would like to discuss it with ~~you~~ you and perhaps with other members of the Ad Hoc Committee before he presented it.

I indicated I thought you would call him tomorrow

REMARKS

CDR LITTLE called to ask the status of the Ad Hoc Committee report -- I gave him the following information:

"At the 68th meeting of USCIB the report was referred to the State and CIA for preparation of a detailed plan of action. In addition a copy of the report has been sent ~~forward~~ to LSIB for concurrence in principle."

I also told him that I would tell ~~him~~ you what I had said, and that if you had any further information regarding the current status of the report that you would call him. He wanted this information before he discussed the British report --
